

SCHOOL VOTED IN, WELLFIELD & ZONING OUT

Meet Again Next Monday

The Town of Wilmington in Town Meeting assembled Monday night saved 10 cents on the 1962 tax rate by reducing the appropriation for a new school $50,000.

It then turned around and voted out a proposed shopping center which would have paid over one dollar on the tax rate, annually.

The savings on the new school if savings they be, were at the recommendation of the Finance Committee, personified by Robert Michelson and Chairman Bill Curtin.

The Building Committee had proposed a $1,100,000 school. This sum was cut to $1,050,000 by amendment, with Ralph Babcock of Woburn Street first asking 'why the change' and then later observing that the two committees should not do their fighting in public Town Meeting.

One of the items cut out was a proposed $12,000 fence around the school. The Building Committee told the town that where a school abutted private homes they thought this might prove to be necessary, and that they are now getting complaints from the new Boutwell School, of children going over privately owned land.

The Building Committee, through Joseph Courtney told the town that they would observe the town vote both in letter and in spirit.

Shopping Center

The other crucial item on the Town Warrant was a proposed shopping center, which found the town quite sharply but evenly divided at the time of the vote.

The $750,000 center had been proposed for the Reading-Wilmington line.

Attorney Paul Niles, speaking for the developers, the K & H Realty Trust of Arlington, told the town that the developer could and would take care of the water problem, that there would be no traffic on West Street or Westdale Ave and that there would be no cause for regret on the part of the town.

Niles was opposed by about five different groups, only one of which was from Westdale Avenue.

Chairman William Beers of the Planning Board spoke for the proposal, urging the voters to vote Yes, and saying that 'it will be an excellent opportunity for the town to encourage business to come to this town'.

Rene La Rivee of Concord St

spoke twice against the re-zoning necessary. He told the voters that they should not 'subject one section of the town to the whole burden of paying for the new school'.

Atty David Elfman spoke saying that the people should 'protect homes' and merchants who have co-operated 100%. He was booed when he made the latter statement.

Elfman called the proposed re-zoning 'spot zoning', and asked for 'fair play for the neighbors and the merchants in town'.

One of the Ouellette brothers from Westdale Avenue told the Meeting that he had a lot of trouble with water. 'If this goes through it will help us - the town has done nothing'.

Paul Metcalf also spoke in favor, saying that the man who owns the land is not a 'Johnny Come Lately', and that if homes were to go into the area 'you will still have to get the police down there for traffic problems'.

He urged acceptance because of the expected $27,000 taxes 'to help pay off the bonds for the new school'.

Mrs Freda Gunning, of Westdale Avenue and Harvey Hudson of Ayotte St were among those who spoke against.

Ralph Babcock, Woburn Street, spoke against, saying that the town would suffer from a bad mistake, and that the town had suffered through the vote on Urban Renewal.

William Keen of Westdale Ave. described the proposal as 'half under water, and no proposals to lick it'.

He was countered by Gus Walker, Chairman of the Board of Health who said that nothing would be allowed by the Board of Health, if the proper fill had not been put in.

Selectmen's Opinion

James Tighe of Chestnut St. asked if any of the Selectmen had an opinion. His question was greeted with applause.

Selectman John Brooks: Very serious principals involved - part is economics and part is what is right and what is wrong.

The country grew on competition, and the Federal Government has laws against monopolies.

If you are voting simply because you do not want the zone to change, that is one thing, but if you are voting to protect some other business then

FALL MEETING OF FRIENDS OF WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

'Every member of the community should know about his hospital and each year do at least one thing for it' was the goal outlined at the Fall Meeting of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, held recently at the home of Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, in Winchester.

Mrs. George Marks, Friends' president opened the brief business meeting, and reported enthusiastic support given to the 1960 Waltz Evenings. She again stressed the value of the Junior Volunteer program this past summer, at the Winchester Hospital.

The proceeds from the Waltz Evenings are always used by the Friends for gifts to the Winchester Hospital. This year the funds are being given for the new emergency waiting room planned as a part of the hospital addition to be started after the first of the year.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIOR BURNED BY FLARE IN TORCHLIGHT PARADE

Craig Sherrin, a High School Junior, was burned, the evening before the annual Thanksgiving Football game, during a torch light parade, Wilmington school authorities have disclosed.

Young Sherrin suffered burns on his arm, from the magnesium torch he was holding. The material from the torch burned through his coat and sleeve before burning the arm.

Investigation, started Monday morning, has disclosed that some unknown person had substituted railroad flares, when the flares planned for the event were found to be not available. The railroad flares burn at a hotter temperature than do regular flares.

About 200 flares are supposed to have been used during the parade, which was sponsored by the Senior Class and the Wilmington High School Boosters.

The parade, using cars, drove over most of Wilmington during the evening.

Assistant Coach John Ritchie who was one of those present knew nothing of the incident until he was told about it Monday morning. The flares were not provided by the School Department.

The Leverones have been permanent residents of Wilmington since 1943, and many of the children and grandchildren present are also residents of Wilmington, while others came from all over the country to attend the dinner.

Some who went to the stage could not find seats and went home.

NEXT MONDAY'S TOWN MEETING

The adjourned Special Town Meeting is to meet at 8 pm in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium. There will be no record breaking crowd present. Perhaps there will not even be a quorum.

There is only one thing on the agenda - the consideration of the proposed new Town of Wilmington Building Code.

It was prepared in three years of work by a committee of hard working men. It is of interest mainly to people who are in the business of construction of buildings, etc.

Most of the controversy (and there isn't much else that is controversial, as of this moment) concerns a proposed Advisory Board of Review.

The new law would appoint such a board, with five members, each having a five year term, and one member being appointed annually.

One of these members, according to the new law, shall be a current member of the Wilmington Planning Board, one a reputable builder with 20 years experience, one an Attorney-at-law, and one a licensed Professional Structural Engineer.

The proposal is good, if Wilmington were a town of 100,000 people. Being instead a town of 12,000 there are questions which must be solved.

How many licensed Professional Structural Engineers are there in Wilmington? At the moment we cannot think of any.

If there is one, is he willing to serve on the advisory board?

Then again there are the proposed provisions which would prevent the Plumbing Inspector or the Electrical Inspector from doing any work on his own accord in Wilmington. This might be just in a large city, but is it in a small town that cannot employ a full time man for these positions?

We don't intend this as criticism of the committee. Probably they are just as aware of these points as anyone else. They have worked hard and long, and we are more than certain that they will welcome suggestions in the Town Meeting.

Their only thanks has been one from the Board of Selectmen. They expected no more. They should have the courteous attention of everyone attending the Town Meeting.

IT WAS A BAD OMEN

The turning down of the rezoning Monday night was a bad omen for the Town of Wilmington. The Superintendent of Schools told the Meeting that while there are enough classrooms now there will be a need for 15 more in 1962 - only two years.

He didn't say any more, but the two years after 1962 is going to see a similar picture, and the two years after that another similar picture.

We can figure on an increase of taxes at $6 every two years, to pay for the new schools and additional teachers - minus whatever comes in from new sources.

The new sources will either be homes or industry. We hope it will be both.

But industry is going to take a long hard look at our Monday Town Meeting.

A reputable firm came to Wilmington, spent money here in a survey, got the OK of the Planning Board, and then was kicked in the shins by the people of the town.

LIKE A BUMP ON A LOG

The Town of Wilmington employs a Town Manager and pays that gentleman about $10,000 a year, a salary higher than does the more prosperous City of Woburn (for instance) pay its Mayor.

For this money the people of Wilmington may expect good technical advice and services. The people expect advice on their problems. Maybe they will reject that advice, and maybe they will accept it, but they want it.

In the several Town meetings which our Town Manager has attended he has sat like a bump on a log. Last Town Meeting was no exception.

CHANGING TIMES

Here's to good old Boston,

The home of the bean and the cod;

Where a Cabot was running for VP and Mass. was no longer awed.

Our Water Department was caught short on a technical problem. Very rightly the people of Wilmington voted down a proposal which should have had a much better presentation.

We can of course blame the Board of Water Commissioners if we are looking for a scapegoat but the blame for our money goes further.

Our TM has visited the Water Board perhaps four times since he has come to Wilmington. The Water Board meets weekly. The TM doesn't.

We are not saying that the TM should attend every meeting of the Water Commissioners, but he should be available, when they are present, to offer expert technical advice and assistance in their problems.

But we had a more serious problem than that posed by the rejection of the well field, in the Town Meeting, and that was the proposal of a responsible firm to clear up some of the water problems near the Wilmington-Reading line.

A proposed shopping center was turned down by the voters.

There is no doubt but that a number of people spent hours on the telephone, inspired by some of our principal store owners, telling voters to vote NO. Selfishness on the part of some of our merchants had its part in that Town Meeting vote.

The net effect has been weird. Advice, positive or negative, should have come from the Town Hall. It didn't. Instead it came from our principal merchants, and for the time being our Town Hall was not in the building owned by the town, but in buildings owned by private firms.

The firm that proposed to buy this area was a responsible one. The Planning Board, unpaid experts, had approved of the firm and their proposal. That proposal was in accord with the long term planning of the town.

The principal problem involved drainage. The area is wet. The firm told the Town Meeting through its attorney that they could and would drain the area. If this could be done it would be a major assist to the town, and to the people who live in the area.

Now the town not only has a Town Manager, but under his control is a full time Town Engineer, and two part time assistants.

The drainage of this area is a technical problem. Mr. Hagerty, when he was a Selectman in Wilmington pointed out the crux of the problem many times. So has this paper.

Our Engineers could have been told by the Town Manager to look into the proposals of this firm, and report to him whether or not they were feasible. They not only could have been told, they should have been told.

We would have had the expert technical advice for which we are paying.

But our TM sat like a bump on a log.

The net result is that a drainage problem that might have been solved will still plague the residents of Westdale Avenue, and we will be paying $1, in increased taxes more than we should have to pay, in 1962.

$1660 RAISED IN WILMINGTON FOR EMARC

A report in 'The Quest', publication for the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, for November, announces that the association has raised $1660 in Wilmington to date, in the EMARC fund drive.

A total of $12,840.59 was reported from seven on the nine communities in the fund drive.

To date Wakefield has reported $4,000, Woburn $1995.34

Reading $1676, Wilmington $1660, Burlington $1,024 and Stoneham $226. No report has been given for Winchester or North Reading.

JAY-CEE-ETTS TO MEET

The Wilmington Jay-Cee-Ettes will meet in the Roman House next Tuesday, at 8 pm., to plan for the Christmas Party on Dec. 17th, and a party for the people of the Old Age Housing Project on Dec. 23.

TOWN NOTES

Fast Pace for Mrs Drew

A story in the Boston Sunday Globe could have been disrespectful, by inference in the headline, but was a very nice report on the activities of Mrs. Wavie Drew, Selectman of Wilmington.

The story, written by a reporter who spent 45 minutes in her home, described the lady as setting a 'very fast pace'.

It was, of course, referring to her manifold activities in both the Town Government and in the Wilmington Republican Town Committee.

And Again And Again

The Wilmington Junior Chamber of Commerce put up some bus shelters for the school children. The one on Shawsheen Ave was destroyed by a youth in a car. The one on Middlesex Ave was stoned, within an hour of erection, by someone who broke a hole through the back.

Last week the JCs went down to that shelter, took out the broken panel, and put in a new one.

Within fifteen minutes a new hole had been punched through the shelter.

Birthday Gifts

The three young men who gave the North Wilmington Pharmacy a Bride's Birthday Cake, on its first anniversary, gave some other gifts as well, so many that we feel constrained to report on them.

Each gift was individually wrapped, and the pharmacist, Harry Sandler had to unwrap them before the eyes of those assembled.

Included was a beer bottle that might have come from Hiroshima, and could not stand up on its own accord, a Napoleon Hat, of newspapers, suitably colored, which Harry had to wear, the Eight of Hearts a brass marble, a soap carving which Picasso might have made but didn't, old radio tubes, a broken cap pistol, some caps for the pistol, and a target at which to aim the pistol.

There was a spoon that had been stolen from the pharmacy, somewhat worse for wear, some High Voltage signs, and last but not least some equipment for the suppression of crime, in which Chief Paul Lynch may possibly be interested.

There were a pair of fake opera glasses for the purpose of spotting would-be shop lifters, and a toy police whistle with which to call the Gendarmes, if the shop-lifters were spotted.

It was quite a collection.

They Didn't Agree

One of the episodes of the Monday town meeting was the free offerings of opinion by Lloyd Belbin and Earl Baldwin, two young men who sat down in front and offered opinions on every subject.

But when it came time to vote they disagreed. They voted differently on every article except that of moving the Cowie Home. On that one they both voted yes.

11 Rotarians Missed

Last Week's Meeting

The dam has broken! For 61 weeks every Wilmington Rotarian attended every meeting, without fail. No one dared to miss. No one wanted to be the Rotarian to break the magic spell.

Then Atty Alan Altman missed a meeting, two weeks ago.

Eleven Wilmington Rotarians breathed a great big sigh of relief at the news, and promptly skipped the next meeting.

(Atty Altman, incidentally, was not hung in effigy, in yesterday's meeting. He skipped - didn't even attend.)

ELKS TO CONDUCT MEMORIAL SERVICES

On Sunday, December 4, at the Tewksbury Town Hall, the Tewksbury-Wilmington Lodge of Elks will conduct its annual observance of Elks Memorial Day. Each year, on the first Sunday in December, all Elks throughout the world pause to render humble tribute to the memory of their departed brothers.

The clergy of both Tewksbury and Wilmington, as well as public officials and representatives of the veterans organizations in the two towns will be among the invited guests. The citizens of both towns are also invited to attend this simple but impressive ceremony one of the few Elks rituals open to the general public.

Background music will be provided by a choral group and band, and a guest speaker will talk briefly on the significance of Memorial Day. Following the services, which will start promptly at 3 p.m., refreshments will be served in the lower Town Hall.

FIELDS MAY BE NAMED BEST PLAYER IN TEWKSBURY GAME

Kevin Fields, Wilmington High School sophomore, will probably be named the Best Player in the annual contest between Tewksbury and Wilmington, played last Thanksgiving at Wilmington.

Fields, the receiving end of the Allard to Fields Combine carried the ball across the line for two touchdowns, after expert flipping from Allard.

Tewksbury was able to score only one touchdown, for 6 points, while Wilmington totaled 14. Wilmington had been declared to be the underdog by Boston writers.

The victory put Wilmington into fourth place, in the Lowell Suburban League.

It was Dick Allard's bullets every time. Fields, in the first quarter, received one of them on his finger tips, balancing the ball there for several steps as he made his way up the sideline pursued by the Tewksbury team.

It was a miracle catch.

Tewksbury almost made a touch down in the second quarter, driving for 47 yards to the one yard line, where the Wilmington line stood firm until Tewksbury lost the ball.

Dick Woods got through twice during these plays, to tackle the Tewksbury carrier before he could get started.

When Wilmington recovered the ball Johnny Bowen smashed out of the hole in two carries, making a first down. Wilmington then tried several passes but alert Tewksbury defense broke up the plays, and Wilmington had to kick.

A few plays later Tewksbury's Aldrich got a 10 yard pass to Co-Capt. Burke to land on Wilmington's 27 yard line. Ballou playing center for Wilmington was injured in this play and had to be taken from the game.

Dick Frotten broke up the next play with a hard plunging tackle that went right through four Tewksbury guards to get the ball carrier, and shortly thereafter Tewksbury had to kick.

Wilmington received the ball on its own 20 yard line and shortly thereafter the best play of the game occurred, only to have the referee penalize Wilmington for a holding penalty.

Allard threw the ball 30 yards, to Fields at the 45 yard line, and Fields made the remaining 55 yards in the fastest gallop of his life.

The groans of the Wilmington fans, when the referee declared the play no good, could be heard all the way to Tewksbury Center.

Tewksbury's touchdown came in the fourth quarter. Quarter Back John Pennino got through from two feet out. Woods, the Old Spoiler, blocked the pass for the conversion.

Two plays later, on the 34 yard line, after a fake pass Allard again connected with Fields who received the ball on Tewksbury's 34 yard line and went down the sideline for the second touchdown.

Again a pass made the point, from Allard to Fields.

Tewksbury tried more passing as the game wound up. Huston spoiled a pass to Tewksbury's Allwood and a few plays later Frotten spoiled one before Tewksbury's Aldrich could have it.

Aldrich got off a 17 yard pass to Allwood, to land the ball on its own 33, and then carried to the 8 yard line in a series of drives, but didn't have enough power to get over. Dick Frotten displayed wonderful form, during the place kicks.

STUDYING FOR THE MINISTRY

Robert F. Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings, of 24 King Street, is studying for the Methodist Ministry, at the Union College, in Barbourville Kentucky, where he is enrolled as a freshman.

Also enrolled in the college are James R. Manuel, son of James Manuel, 257 Shawshen Ave. and Bert Sell Jr., son of Bert Sell of Oakwood Road. Both are in their junior year.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO HOLD SERVICES IN BURLINGTON

The United Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Presbytery of Boston, is to hold its first worship services in Burlington, in the Church of Christ, Bedford and Lexington Streets, this Sunday at 2 pm.

A supervised nursery is to be provided for babies and young children.

Informal gatherings have been held during the past few weeks to consider the nature and mission of the Christian Church, and how this embryo church can set forth an essential and relevant ministry in the best Presbyterian tradition.

Last Wednesday evening the new congregation engaged in its first corporate act of worship by uniting with the host church in its annual Thanksgiving Eve Service.

On Nov. 20th ten young people and two advisors from the Boston Presbytery churches engaged in home visitation in the five areas of the community to be served by the church. Calls were made upon nearly 400 families where response was most courteous and helpful.

The Rev. Richard G. Douse, Organizing Minister, was one of those who took part in the visitations.

Since the authorization was given by the Council of Churches of Massachusetts to establish a United Presbyterian congregation in Burlington, interest and support has rallied to a marked degree.

Work was initially begun by the National Missions Committee of the Boston Presbytery this summer. The organizing minister and his family took residence in October and began the process of gathering a congregation. In the course of two months many people from Burlington and surrounding communities have responded favorably in the hope that a church may be organized with a complete program for full family participation.

A cordial invitation has been extended to Wilmington families who desire a purposeful and meaningful Christian experience to worship in the new Presbyterian Church.

FRENCH GIRL WAS SPECIAL GUEST OF TOWN MEETING

Mlle. Dominique Perrin, a native of Paris, was a special guest at Wilmington's Town Meeting, Monday night, in order that she may observe the traditional New England town meeting.

Mlle. Perrin and Courtney

She has received her doctorate from the Science Politique Institute de Paris, and before that studied in Sorbonne. She is in the United States studying American government, and has been in the State House in Boston, as the guest of Joseph Courtney, former Town Manager of Wilmington, where she has been observing the government of Massachusetts.

Mlle. Perrin says watching a Town Meeting is more fun than watching the State Legislature.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

34 Brentwood Avenue
Wilmington, Mass.
November 25, 1960

Dear Larz:

First let me thank you for your extremely informative article about Brentwood Avenue. You certainly must have a raft of information available at your fingertips to come up with such a concise report. I can only conclude that the town officials do not have this information, or they do not wish to have it known by the general public. Thanks again for your objective answers and your 'let-the-chips-fall-where-they-may' attitude. Keep it up, and you can't help but keep the confidence of your readers.

One thing that puzzles me in your reply to my previous letter is your statement saying 'If the Board of Selectmen approves Avco's request, ---'. Would this mean that the selectmen have the sole power to open Brentwood Ave., and Woodside Ave. or will the question go to the people at public hearings and a town meeting?

Another item that is a question in my mind is the $106,000 bond that was floated by the town to pay for the Avco Sewer $15,000.00 of this bond has been paid off leaving a balance of $91,000.00. The town also paid $4,000.00 or $5,000.00 rental on the sewer to the M.D.C. for the privilege of emptying Avco's Sewerage into their system. You say that Avco has reimbursed the town for all but $400.00 of these amounts, but I can find no reference to it in our town records. Also, if my information is correct, Avco did not pay to resurface Brentwood Ave. after the sewer was installed. We drove over rocks and rubble on this street for about 6 months before the town trucks came down to spread the gravel and oil for the new surface. This can be verified by the 1959 town report, but I will welcome your correction if I am misinformed.

I was very pleased to learn that Avco is trying to utilize all parking spaces and has gone to some lengths to accomplish this. (Refer your remarks to the Avco security police forcing the cars through the front, to the rear parking area.) They are trying to be fair and will probably want to use Brentwood Ave. only as a last resort. Now that they have filled up both parking lots and still have an overflow of approximately 75 cars on Lowell Street all day, we can see that if Brentwood Ave. is opened, these cars will be parked on this residential street all day. I know this will happen because it already has, and it continued until one of the residents posted a 'PRIVATE PROPERTY' sign on his property.

This experiment by their security department should prove to them that Brentwood Ave. is not the answer to their parking difficulties. It should also show them that they need either, 1, more parking area, or 2, less working force. The latter seems to be out of the question, so the answer would appear to lie in the first suggestion. This should pose no real problem as they have now at their disposal, quite a fair sized parcel of land that could be readily adapted for use as parking area. (Excluding land being reserved for any future buildings).

I am not a traffic engineer, but if I was as concerned as Avco appears to be over the peace and good feelings of their neighbors toward them, then I would take any steps necessary to insure that peace and good relationship.

From the letters that I have received from readers of your paper, I find that there are a number of people in other parts of the town who feel as I do, and they have taken the time and trouble to let me know. I thank them for this moral support and I assure them that I will continue to raise my voice in opposition to this ridiculous proposal as long as I can find an ear that is willing to listen.

It doesn't seem to me that almost 100% of the citizens living in a given area could oppose something and still have that particular something frosted upon them. This is the case here. We have almost total agreement in this neck of the woods that we don't want Avco ruining our property value by making a driveway out of our street. Now let us wait and see what happens. Will the people win out, or will big business take over?

My question here, of course, is not who paid for the Avco Sewer. This makes little difference now because it is installed and apparently paid for, and there is little that anyone can do about it one way or another. (I might mention that I think it's an excellent start for our own town sewer system) The point that is in question, (and I will hope that it is not too late to stop it,) is, are we going to allow our side streets to be turned into parking lot driveways, I, personally, would hope not.

If someone was to bet their 'Bottom kopec' on the 2-15 or 20 minute periods that the street would be open, and he said that this was the ONLY time it would be open, he would probably be making a very bad bet. Once the Camel gets his head in the tent, the rest of him follows. Anyone who thinks that this is not the case here is indeed a trusting soul. We know full well that it would start out as a 15 minute period, lengthen into a 20 minute period, 30 minute period, 1 hour, and eventually the gates, and the streets, would find themselves being used all day.

OH well, we will continue to hope that 'IT CAN'T HAPPEN HERE.'

Once again we thank you for your considerations in this matter, and we remain

Very truly yours,
George F. Quinn

Now you are getting into legal questions and we are not an attorney at law.

Every person who owns land on a private way has a right to use that way. If the owners of a private way observe legal formalities every 20 years without fail they can control that traffic.

Someone a few years ago tried to stop off the right of way to Camp Forty Acres. They sat up all one night, under the stars, blocking traffic (there was none). But this was the first time this had been tried in over 50 years, and the only thing those people got for their effort was a beautiful night under the stars.

We would say that this is the score for Woodland Ave. No one has ever blocked it, to our knowledge, for the past 40 years.

Avco owns land at the end of Woodland, and even if you could block off other people legally, you couldn't block off Avco.

The fact that Avco went to the Selectmen is, in our opinion, a part of their efforts to live in peace with their neighbors. They didn't have to go, we would say, but they did. Brentwood Ave is a public way and may not be blocked, except that the Selectmen may control truck traffic, and also, if a school is there, traffic during school hours.

As to the surfacing of Brentwood. There was a big hassle, you may remember, about the contractor not finishing Woburn Street, at the time the sewer was put in. We think the town finally finished Woburn street and Brentwood Ave., using the town Highway Department. We think the money came out of the funds that were to go to the private contractor.

The Town has often used the Highway Department to save money, paying for the work from other funds - as for instance at the Glen Road School, where the Highway Department built the approach, and the cost was paid from the School Building funds. The Town saved money as a result, and we approved just for that reason.

Now that is no longer done. The Selectmen issued an order, (we don't know in which public meeting) which has stopped the Highway Department from doing things like that, and in our opinion it is costing the town money.

They issued such an order for the approaches to the Boutwell School, which is still unfinished, and no explanation has ever been given to the School Department.

We did not say that Avco has reimbursed the town for the cost of the sewer. We said Avco has paid everything to date except for one item of $400, which came up after the agreement was made, and which the town paid without mentioning it to Avco.

A sum of money, $2,000 a year we believe, is being paid to the city of Woburn for the use of their connector sewer until such time as Wilmington is directly connected to the MDC sewer.

This may show as a Town of Wilmington check, but Avco is paying for it as a part of their agreement to cover all costs until the MDC connection has been made.

In the same vein, those new industries which are using the sewer are doing so by private agreement with Avco. When the sewer is connected to the MDC whatever they pay will go directly to the town, as a part of the sewer rentals which are expected to pay for the bonds after the town takes over.

Dear Larz:

Your lead editorial of the November 24 edition prompts me to question the use of the small 'r' in the word realm, as used in the expression 'coin of the realm'. If we believe that all that we have, material possessions, our talents, even the time we use and misuse, are entrusted to us by our Creator, and that a systematic and proportionate amount should be returned to His service for the benefit of all mankind, then it is indeed 'coin of His Realm'.

It does not seem to me that your last sentence, in part, 'can be induced to dig down and produce some of said coin' reflects the attitude of most Wilmington church members and parishoners. I would rather think that those who contributed to the new St. Dorothy's, St. Thomas' and Wilmington Methodist churches, did so in the spirit of Christian Stewardship, not grudgingly or of necessity, but cheerfully and thankfully.

If God through His church has to plead for money in order that His work may not suffer, which money He gave us the talent and capacity to earn, then new church organs will only be pieces of furniture, not instruments of great sacred music, and new churches will only be buildings not cathedrals of worship.

Cordially yours
William A. Stickney
Director of Stewardship
Wilmington Methodist Church

We used a small 'r', as in the coin of Caesar's realm. 'Render unto Caesar' etc.

engagement of their daughter,
Bonnie, to William Thomas Ste-

Miss Justice graduated from Wilmington High School in 1958
She is now a Junior at Boston

Arts.

years with the United States Air Force and is presently employed by the Improved Paper Machinery Co. of Nashua, N.H.

TOWN MEETING

you are doing a moral wrong.
You should spread out, where-ever growth is rational. Have you a right to deny one man an opportunity while you give it to another?

Babcock: We should not spread out like a mushroom and let the center wither.

Mrs Drew (Selectman): I firmly agree with Mr. Brooks.
Westdale resident: I moved here three years ago from the city. I don't want a shopping center - I might as well go back.

Garnet Mills: I have lived 28 years on Westdale Avenue, and built 6 or 8 homes there. For 10 years it was the most taxable property, for the length of the street, in Wilmington.

We have paid taxes, helped carry the burden for 30 years.
Now one small neck of town is asked to be rezoned. 12,000 cars a week. Is it good planning, thinking of the town as a whole. You have a water problem - the sewers across Route 93 are inadequate - you are getting a back flow.

I fully believe in my heart
it will not be a shopping center - it will be an open air theatre or a gas station.

It is said they will pay $27,000 in taxes. It will cost $100,000 for a sewer to keep the place dry.

If they allow this because of the access to Route 129, what is going to happen at Concord Street, at Route 62, and 125?
Haven't we got enough cheap stores in Wilmington?

I have no faith in Stop & Shop. They intended to build closer to the center and then withdrew.

We people live there, and it hurts us.

Gene Sullivan: Crest Avenue and Westdale Avenue are most highly populated. I don't want to come home and find my child dead - 20,000 cars.

William Israel: Spot-zoning.
Lowell Street assisted us $14
in the tax rate last year.
There are a lot of cars there but those people do not have women drivers.

Atty Niles: The K & H Realty
are ready to drain the area.
Any plan has to have the approval of the Board of Health and the Town Engineer. Traffic is already a problem here.

This place was foreseen as a prospective place for good business, and this represents good planning for the Town of Wilmington.

LaRivee: I don't think Mr.
Brooks went far enough - I don't care about De Moulas or any other shopping center.
Once we rezone the people have no chance to go before the Board of Appeals.

Brooks: I told you that if you wished to deny because you do not wish to change that was your privilege, but don't listen to people who are telling you to vote No because it may hurt some other business.

I have been in receipt of anonymous mail, and a woman 70 years old has been kept awake nights by people who call her and then hang up.

If that's the way it is going to be in this town I might as well move.

The debate was closed, on a motion by John Elia, Yes 471,
No 20.

The final vote defeated the proposal, Yes 279, No 274, with a two thirds vote necessary.

Other Actions

The town voted to transfer the sum of $2561.75 for the purchase of new radio equipment for the Fire Department.
Rene La Rivee told the town that this was foreseen, as the wavelengths are to change in 1963, and that Wilmington has to act now to preserve the wavelength assigned to it.

The sum of $6923.12 was transferred for the purpose of relocating the automatic gates and Western Union equipment at Concord Street's railroad crossing. The street is being widened under a Chapter 90 program.

The Water Department request for power of eminent domain to take land for a new well field off Chestnut Street was turned down.

Waldo Stevens moved the article, and asked for no money, which aroused questions.

He and Town Manager Cecil Lancaster told the town that the money would be asked for in the annual town meeting next March.

Among those who questioned was Fructuoso Carrasco, and Earl Baldwin moved that a committee be appointed to investigate. He was not seconded.

Mrs. Beatrice Swenson read a letter, after telling the town that she was one of the land owners involved. Her letter stated that the State had helped her plan for a type of tree farm.

Town Engineer Alphonse Savignac told the meeting that the amount of land that was to be taken from Mrs. Swenson had been cut. Originally proposed, for the taking, he said, was
